A new beginning for ALYS !

The journey in Japan of our team ended last week, after two months made up of numerous meetings !

Joffrey, who also represented Vocaloid.fr as his external communication manager, thus met numerous people, and started partnerships which, we hope, will make it possible to strengthen the links between the western creative community and the Asian one, especially in Japan. We will do our best so that those friendly bonds end up into wonderful project!

Our opinion, with VoxWave, is that the Vocaloid phenomenon, in Europe and America, is above all a creative community, which gathers together all creators using voice synthesis for music, and more generally virtual singers.

It is not the same everywhere: our numerous discussions taught us that in Japan, it focuses particularly on singing voice synthesis, and not around the universe made up by virtual singers.

The point is that our project, since the very beginning and above everything, is a participative project, which aims at creating and involving a creative community in the birth of ALYS. Through your love for ALYS, you contribute to make her come to exist! And it is thanks to you that we keep advancing, every day, step by step, to provide you the best voice synthesis.

That is why we had to reorient our research to find a high-quality technology, which would be adapted to the promotion of a virtual singer for everyone.

That is why we are glad to announce you that an agreement in principle has been found with the representatives of CeVIO project, so as to give ALYS a voice provided by their technology! ALYS will thus be able not only to sing and speak in French and Japanese, but also to speak in those two languages. This is a premiere for the creative community!

CeVIO Creative Studio is a recent (2013) voice synthesis software. It enables an intuitive and high quality voice synthesis, for now only in Japanese (a question which should be solved when ALYS is released).

The great novelty of this software lies in the association of singing voice synthesis to speech synthesis. Numerous users in Japan use it already, for original and high quality songs !

Moreover, it proposes a freeware, CeVIO Creative Studio Free, which will enable any user to try and compose with ALYS, whatever their level is!

Our wish, with this new beginning, is to see amateur as well as professionals, French-speaking people as well as Japanese-speaking ones, meeting in the common creation of a musical, artistic, emotional universe around ALYS. Through her, we can make boundaries fall, a preoccupation dear to our heart!

That is why we hope you will appreciate this new orientation given to the project, which offers very promising news as regards its future, and will even offer to the less experienced the possibility to make their debut on the creative scene !

That being said, the amount to gather to start this development is very high, much more than our original forecasts. Thus, we cannot announce a release date for now. We are thinking of the best way to gather this amount without compromising with the integrity of the project!

So as to convince more sponsors to support our initiative, and to gather funds to fund this project, we announce to you today that a prototype of ALYS, on another software, is currently being developed.

It will not be publicly released, but will make it possible to make songs for ALYS, which will be published, once ready. Numerous producers have indeed expressed their interest for ALYS, and we will be happy to broadcast the result of that collaboration as soon as possible!

Once more, your support was decisive in overcoming that step, and we want to thank you for that !

Those two months spent in Japan have been silent, yet very fruitful, and we hope you will like as much as we do this new beginning for ALYS, which is very promising for the whole creative community !
